

Download Greener Materials And The Markets That Use Them

We are decreasing the waste associated with our business, increasing recycling and promoting reusability. The hot and cold water market is turning increasingly to plastics solutions. Crosslinked polyethylene materials have been in use for around 30 years primarily in wire and cable application and for hot and cold water pipes in competition with copper. Credit: Igor Salopek. Public Transport Scavenger Hunts Allow your guests to explore the city by encouraging them to use other modes of transport. We are working to shrink our environmental footprint and meet the expectations of our customers by reducing the waste associated with our cups, increasing recycling and promoting reusable cups., Greener Materials And The Markets That Use Them.

Other Files :